Germany is European Champion in U17 Girls Ultimate!

Wow! What a day this Friday has been! Already most placement games are done. And the first gold medal in the U17 Girls Division goes to Germany after beating Austria in the final. Before Austria surprisingly defeated Great Britain in the semi 11:9. In the initial pool Great Britain had beaten Austria 10:4. The other semi between Germany and France ended 15:1. In the final the German girls played the better game again and won 15:4, taking their second gold medal in this division after 2010 in Heilbronn. In the third place game Great Britain won Bronze by beating France.

U17 open: The classical final Great Britain vs. Germany

Israel beat Belgium and France beat Ireland, both 15:05, so the pressure was on Austria to beat Germany as a last chance for the semi, after the epic 15:14 time cap loss against GB on Thursday. So Austria came out strong from the beginning, and fought fiercely again.

And they were rewarded, time was capped again at 13, game to 15. This seemed like a bad omen, but they learned their lesson and beat Germany 15:13. So Israel was unfortunate to drop out of the semis in a 3 way tie. Germany and Austria then met immediately again for the semi. And again Austria showed all their power, taking the lead 4:2. Then, Germany had its best phase, scoring 6 points when Austria only got 1, to take the lead 8:5, and then teams traded points to the end. Both squads can be really proud of their exquisite performance!

The same is true for France and Great Britain in the other semi. France was the clear underdog, after Great Britain's 7 straight victories. But in a semi, that does not count, so France began with full force and took a very good lead on GB. But GB had learnt how to fight back against Austria, and used it. 14:11 was the final result, so tomorrow France and Austria meet for Bronze, Great Britain and Germany go for gold.

Junior Women Final: Italy vs. Germany

Israel took on Slovakia for 11th, and could repeat their pool victory. The same goes for Latvia, who confirmed their win over Russia for 9th. As in their very first match, France and Austria met for bronze. Tied until 5:5, Austria took half time at 9:5. France fought back hard to 10:10, but ultimately Austria's offence proved to be more solid; 14:12 was the final score. 5th place goes to Finland, with the Czech women already with the disc at the score line: 17:16, high score match.

Junior Open Final: France vs. Germany

The quarters saw two 15:14, Sweden over Austria and France over Czech rep. So the Czechs did not get a rematch against GB after their earlier 14:15 loss, but instead beat Switzerland 14:12 and now face Austria, who won 13:12 over Israel in a real nailbiter in which Israel was up but once again had trouble pulling through their physically strenuous style all the way to victory.

Germany goes clear through to the final, sending Sweden on the quest for bronze. The real killer, however, was the other semi: Great Britain went strong, but France went stronger to secure their first final after 2009, winning 16:14.

Netherlands has won the Guts tournament!

Thursday evening there has been a Guts contest at the ASV stadium. All in all eight teams participated in a knock-out round consisting of quarters, semis and a final. Among the teams were „Bu-Ka-Ke!“ from Belgium, „The Ladz“ U17Ireland, „Ireland meets Sweden“, „Kolbas mit Mustard“ and „Flower Power“ both from Slovakia. Also a local team from the ASV named „Volle Tiere“ took part. In the final the „Smoking Gayloards“ from the Netherlands won over the hard fighting „Dinamo Riga“ from Latvia.

Tips of the day

The finals will be scored point by point on ultiorganizer by Thomas Griesbaum. Tell your friends at home to visit <http://results.ultimatefederation.de>.

Once again: Please bring your flags and the wooden sticks right after breakfast to put all 16 flags for the finals on the fence of the ASV stadium. Thank you!
